Healing & Reconciliation for Indigenous Wellness

Date and Time: Tuesday, September 28 06:30 pm - 8:00 pm

Address: WASAGA BEACH PUBLIC LIBRARY, 120 GLENWOOD DRIVE, WASAGA BEACH ON, L9Z 2K5

As Canadians living through a pandemic we've been forced to consider how to support each other and to attend to our own wellbeing, those we care about and others around us. Attention to Indigenous racism through the experiences of Joyce Eschaquan and the discovery of unmarked graves at the site of former Indian Residential Schools also left Canadians to explore the truth of our history and the impacts it has had on Indigenous people in Canada. This talk will explore the concept of Indigenous healing, cultural reclamation and micro-reconciliation to ensure equity and wellbeing for Indigenous people. Register to save your virtual spot. The Zoom link will be emailed to registrants closer to the event date.
